Among those that have joined the Free Methodists during the past week are two of our most prominent men, W. C. Shinn and John Gibson.—Echo.

The Phoenix dance last Friday evening was one of the social events of the year. Everybody claimed to have enjoyed themselves, and all wish well for the Phoenix.

Pettillon took a severe attack of the bellyache and Shinn is trying to make a sneak on the contribution box because our County Treasurer was too sharp for them.—Echo.

Mrs. W. R. Turner, who has been visiting in Larned, Kas., returned to her home in this city on Saturday last, but we are sorry to hear she leaves agsan Friday for Indiana.

Frank Bogart, brother of Mrs. R. S. Crane, and Miss Clara Richardson, of the thriving city of Spearville, were married on Tuesday last, Rev. Rose officiating. We wish them much happiness.

Our time has been so much occupied with revival meetings this week that we have failed to attend to newspaper work as we ought to do as a general rule, but will give more attention to the latter after the thickest of religious harvest work shall be past.

MAP FREE.—A magnificent map of any state in the Union, of latest date, made on bond paper, will be given as a premium to all our cash subscribers for one year at $1.50, and to all the old friends, (and young ones, too), who renew their subscription with the advance payment of a year's subscription. Have you registered? If not, do so at once.

J. A. Corey, one of Dodge City's popular R. R. men, was promoted to conductor last week. The GLOBE wishes Mr. Corey luck.

Regular services will be held at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning and evening. All are cordially invited to attend.

Rev. M. E. Phillips Ph. M., D. D., President of Winfield College, will preach at the Methodist Episcopal Church next Sunday, Feb. 26th. Come and hear him.

The I. O. G. T. held an open meeting last Tuesday. It was very well attended, and the music and singing very fine, also the speaking was fine. After the exercises, a recess was taken, and games were played until a late hour.

H. R. Brown has returned to his store after a few weeks visit to his parents in Ohio. H. R. seems to have been successful in his efforts to bring back a bride, and we are sorry, for that two column send off with its magnificent description of his choice is now wasted.

R. F. Scoffern, the well known Rock Island railroad agent, formerly of Bucklin, is here to-day, shaking hands with the hosts of friends he made in Dodge City during the political campaign in which he made such a grand fight for republicanism. He is in the Rock Island employ in Kansas once more.

Judge J. M. Burson has struck such a boom in the wedding business that he is confident the office will afford him a living and is preparing to move his family to Dodge the first of next week. We welcome this estimable family into our midst. They will be quite a desirable addition to our social circles in the city.

W. E. Teare & Co. have just received one of the most elegant lines of fancy stationery we have ever looked upon. The line comprises the very latest styles in note paper and envelopes, and to see something that is truly artistic you have only to give a glance at the fine display in his show case. They have also lately added a full stock of blank books to their business and will in the future keep a full line of them.

"Our German Ward" drew a good house last Monday night. Those in the audience were somewhat divided in opinion as to the merits of the actors. Some claimed there was not a good artist in the outfit, while others regarded it as laughable, as well as interesting. All agree, however, that the Gold Band was fine. There are some who pronounced the Old man Primrose's part grandly handled, as also Peggy Primrose. On the whole, it was about an average entertainment for this city.

The family of J. H. Phillips, our former townsman, lives at 333 north Waco avenue, instead of 33, as published in a former GLOBE. A friend who recently called upon them in their beautiful new home in the most fashionable part of the lovely little city, Wichita, tells us there are two other J. H. Phillips living there, one a gentleman of color, and "our Jim" says he don't mind having his laundry "copped" out once in a while, or to have an occasional dun not his own, but he does seriously object to his mail from cherished friends in Dodge City and other points falling into the hands of the Phillistines. Hence this precaution.

The "Topeka Democrat" in making sketches of members of the Legal organized House of Representatives at Topeka, speaks as follows of the Hon. M. W. Sutton, our Representative from Ford county. Hon. M. W. Sutton, of Dodge City, is the vigorous and popular representative of the constitutional republican house from the Ninety-seventh district. He is a veteran, skilled legislator and a power in the present house. He is also a G. A. R. man and votes as he shot. The committee on judiciary has the aid of his diligent, valuable counsel in the formation of their reports to the open session, and his active work on the floor of the house stamps him a leader and sagacious legislator. He has introduced, among other important measures, an act making an appropriation for the current expenses of buildings and repairs of the Kansas State soldier home.

Some of our readers are anxious to know why we have mentioned Hon. G. M. Hoover's work in behalf of Ford county, and said nothing concerning that of Hon. M. W. Sutton. We therefore deem it proper to explain the reason why. The fact is, some months ago, Mr. Sutton and associates held a bill of sale or mortgage upon part of the Dodge City Echo, and regarding that paper as his personal organ, we have left it to lead the songs of praise to its illustrious master, feeling that we will be contented to modestly join in the chorus. So far we have failed to note anything concerning our representative's work in the legislature in said journal. But will observe more diligently hereafter, and if anything transpires worthy of mention will give it to our readers.

We really believe Sutton is doing the best he can for Ford county, and that when the legal house is recognized the wisdom of making him our representative will be apparent.

Ladies, be sure your name is registered. See to it at once.

Miss M. Wright, who has been at school in the east, returned to the city Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Robinson have the sympathy of this community on the loss of their six months old babe, of spasmodic crop.

Si Plunkard filled Kelly's Opera House last night to the doors. Mr. Lewis has a great show this year and he can always count on a crowded house in Dodge City.

Maj. McKinley is a hopeless bankrupt. He has turned everything over to creditors, first paying all endorsed papers, dollar for dollar. He is sublime in his misfortune.

M. M. Gwinner has opened a bakery and confectionary stand in the Beadle building and will have constantly on hand the finest cakes and confections ever handled in the city.

We see by the Times that a man named Moody, of Jewel county, is said to have been appointed commandant of the Ft. Dodge Soldier's Home, and will take charge next week. We would be pleased to see some Ford county man Quartermaster.

There has been a ripple of rejoicing over the prospect that Bro. Shinn has come over on the Lord's side during the revival this week, but some party's without the fear of the Lord in their hearts, say that he is just working a racket on the contribution box, the same as he did the county printing.—Dodge City Times.

Mrs. W. P. Vanordstrand has been so ill for some time that a change of medical treatment is recommended by her physician. Mr. Vanordstrand has therefore secured a lay off until April 20th, and last Thursday started with her for Chicago, where she will receive every possible help to restore her to health once more.

Tuesday evening Mr. Z. T. Bush and lady and Mr. A. S. Crouch and lady called at the residence of Mrs. James D. Bush and after a pleasant evening of social entertainment were surprised by the hosts calling them to a splendid repast where all enjoyed themselves to their hearts content. Afterwards those present formed a social club, by name "The Big Four," which will meet once each week for musical entertainment, reading of essays and discussing of other topics will be the order of the evening.

Bro. Shinn, of GLOBE-REPUBLICAN, has been attending the revival meetings of the Free Methodists and last Wednesday evening he was converted. We are pleased to think at last some good may come from Bro. Shinn, for he has been a hard case in his time, and now that he has got religion we hope for better results. We understand that he was the hardest case that has yet come before the meeting. The hardest part was to keep him awake long enough for him to realize the beauties of religion, it being necessary to keep up a great deal of noise, but success crowned the efforts of the revivalists at last, when hope seemed entirely gone. We congratulate Bro. Shinn, and most heartily congratulate the evangelists on their success, for it was without doubt a herculean task and they deserve the thanks of the community, for there is no doubt but that Bro. Shinn was "the vilest sinner of them all".—Dodge City Democrat.

Bro. Pettyjohn complains that we "sneaked around and enticed" Lloyd Evans not to contribute to his columns. We plead guilty to the soft impeachment.

Young Evans has been for some weeks engaged on the staff of this journal, and some of the choicest literary work in these columns is from his versatile pencil. The contract made with him called for the entire product of his intellect in this line. Furthermore, we especially stipulated that under no consideration should any of his writings appear in the Echo. In explaining the reason of this, we must admit that the Echo was forging ahead rapidly in the race for literary supremacy, and chancing to learn that Lloyd Evans was contributor, we concluded the best work on that paper came from his pen. Since he quit the Echo the wonderful calf article appeared, however, and also the graphic description of the great journalistic fight for opera tickets, and we are now forced to the conclusion that Pettyjohn himself is the master mind, we do therefore hereby grant to Lloyd Evans a release from that part of his contract which prohibited him from placing any of his work with rival newspapers, and most particularly commend a portion of his talent to the work of securing Pettyjohn's admission to the opera house.

George Washington's Birthday.

On Feb. 22d, 1893, the O. R. C. Div. Lodge No. 300, gave a dance in honor of George Washington, there were people from all directions. The afternoon train from the west brought in one coach filled with the visitors and the train from the east had several couples. The dance began at 9 p. m. and did not stop until 4 o'clock. There were lots of Dodge City's former residents among the crowd. The Grand March was taken in by nearly all, and was a "dazzler."

Supper at "The Ashley" was served to all who wished to have it. The supper was one that did Mr. Ashley credit. Music was furnished by Beeson's Orchestra.

Death of J. B. Waring.

DIED:—John Baxter Waring, at his home in Dodge City, Kansas, on Feb. 19th, 1893, of sugar diabetes, at the age of 63 years 3 months and one day.

Mr. Waring came to Dodge City from Cardington, Ohio, in the fall of 1888, and started a shoe maker shop in the Shoe Store of his son C. O. Waring. He has been quiet and unassuming, but gradually became known as one of the grandest "old Soldiers of the Cross" in Dodge City. He passed over the dark river in the peaceful trust in his God, that takes away all fear. In the protracted meeting last January it was the privilege of the editor of this paper to hear him give his testimony in favor of the Lord Jesus Christ, in which he had lived a noble and consistent life for more than forty years. It was one of the most complete evidences of the genuineness of the Christian faith we had heard for many years. No philosophy could be more reasonable than the manner in which the grand old gentleman compared his experience with that of one who might be constantly engaged in journeying back and forth between Dodge City and Kansas City, in order to illustrate the certainty with which a Christian might know the eternal truth of religion, by a long experience in the way of a Godly life and a heartfelt salvation of the soul. His final dissolution came painlessly and quietly, like the peaceful falling into a restful slumber.

Mr. Waring was born at Marlborough, Ulster county, New York, Nov. 18th 1829. He was married to Euphemia Sayer Walker, Oct. 24th, 1847. To this union seven children were born—five sons and two daughters. The youngest daughter died in Ohio, in 1887. Three sons are so well known and highly esteemed in this city as to require no special mention from us. They and the family of the remaining daughter, Mrs. L. R. Miller, are reckoned among the most prominent and valued citizens of Dodge City.

The two other sons, Eugene and Frank, do not live here, but were present at their fathers dying bedside. Eugene lives at Alliance, Ohio, and Frank at Pittsburg, Pa.

The family moved to Cardington, Ohio, in the fall of 66, lived there twenty two years, during which deceased became one of the most distinguished citizens, if not the leading public spirited man of the city. He served acceptably in various official capacities, including the positions of Mayor, Alderman and Chairman of the Republican County Central Committee. He was also chosen during one campaign, as the republican candidate for representative.

In religious work he was no less conspicuous, being for sixteen years continuously superintendent of the M. E. Sunday school in the same city.

Another Passed Over.

The Silent Messenger again came into our city last Wednesday night and bore another human being from time's uncertainty to the mysteries of eternity. This time it was David H. Drake of Ford, Kansas. Deceased has been ailing for some time, we do not know how long, and a few days ago a delirious fever seemed about to set in and he came to the home of his sister in this city for better care and greater convenience in medical attendance. The stricken man had every available means used to help him but all in vain. The disease which ended his life was pronounced typhoid pneumonia.

Mr. Drake was about forty years of age and has for years been a leading citizen and influential farmer of Ford township, filling the responsible position of trustee during the time when the matter of sugar bonds came up, and owing to his resolute efforts on behalf of the township, a very advantageous bargain was made whereby a flouring mill was to be constructed. Those who built the mill may have felt that he drove a hard bargain, but even they give him credit for sincerity of purpose. As to his spiritual condition at time of death we are not advised, but he was a church member and is said to have been especially persistent in searching the Scriptures the last few weeks before being rendered helpless by sickness. We leave his soul with God, Who "doeth all things well."

Sterling, Kansas, Feb. 16th, 1893.

Clerk Dodge City Camp M. W. A.
Dear Sir: I have this day received a draft for $3000, being the amount in full of the insurance in the Modern Woodmen of America, on the life of my husband, D. W. C. Rogers, who died in Dodge City Dec. 18th, 1892. I know by experience that your noble order lives up to its obligations to the widows and orphans of its deceased members. I desire to express my gratitude to the order in general and the neighbors of Ness City and Dodge City Camps for their kindness in assisting me in the proof necessary to be made to get this insurance. Yours Respectfully,

ANNA C. ROGERS.

One Chance Left.

A decade had elapsed. In that period vast changes had been wrought, women were admitted to all fields of human endeavor and the avocations formerly considered to belong to the sterner sex exclusively were open to all.

In a quiet resort, somewhat removed from the busiest thoroughfare, one man chanced to ask another for a chew of tobacco. Thence the conversation turned by easy stages upon the evils of the day.

"Bill!"

"The man with a look of settled despair in his dark brown eyes was subdued in his address."

"It's getting so a fellow without a wife has just about got to starve."

"Yes."

"It's a shame the way the women have crowded us out of business."

"True."

"Both remained in silent meditation for a moment."

"But then—"

"The look of settled despair was somewhat less pronounced for a moment."

"We should be grateful that Providence has left us pre-eminent in one calling. Thank heaven, they can't compete with us in dressmaking."

It was a comforting thought, to be sure.—Detroit Tribune.

Among the Roses.

Bags full of roses, baskets heavy with roses, carts laden with roses, roses, a feast of roses, a surfeit of roses, if that is possible. The women stick roses in their long, braided hair, the men in their belts, the children pull them and play with them and leave them on the road to die.

There is roseleaf jam to eat—very fresh and sweet it is—and there is roseleaf sirup to drink. Every vase and vessel is full of roses; they drop on you from unexpected places; great bunches of bright pink heads lying on the ground admonish you as you walk; you can make a bed of them if you will; go to the granary—rosary, I suppose it should be called—and there you will find as soft and sweet a couch as was ever laid in the "Arabian Nights" for eastern princes to dream upon.

This is how it came about that I saw such a multiplicity of roses. We fulfilled a long cherished scheme and went to Kezanlik, the Valley of Roses, in the Balkans, once the famous rose garden of Turkey.—Blackwood's Magazine.

Dr. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quick nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphia, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. KUCHLER, Conway, Ark.

H. A. ANCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
